

mark woloschuk

CREATIVE DIRECTOR & DESIGNER

OVERVIEW

Creative problem solver with 15+ years of experience in media production and content development for companies from early-stage startups to Fortune 500s. Proven track record of producing creative concepts under tight budgets and schedules. Strategic thinker with a critical eye for detail.

Creative Leadership

Led design teams cross-functionally in ideation and content development. Supervised staff and content through production and post. Directed crew and talent for single, and multi-camera shoots.

Strategic Concepting & Planning

Led creative process to identify strategic goals and needs. Developed pitch decks and presented concepts to executive stakeholders. Wrote scripts and ensured content aligned with brand standards.

Executive Communication

Interviewed executives, product managers, and engineers to tell product stories for consumer-facing video for product launches.

Content Creation

Created graphics for video, print, web, and social media. Produced shot lists, storyboards, and script breakdowns. Edited video and supervised audio production. Shot b-roll video, and elements for visual effects.

Operational Excellence

Managed budgets, timelines, and vendor relationships.

WORK HISTORY

Creative Director & Producer

San Francisco, CA, 2008-present

As a creative consultant, I produce and direct content for a diverse array of projects. From documentary-style customer stories to experiential motion graphics, this media serves a wide gamut of applications including marketing, social media, events, and education.

Clients include: Adobe, Cisco, Dolby, Facebook, HP, and Microsoft.

Key Highlights:

- created experiential, large-scale projection-mapped motion graphics for the NFL and the city of Jacksonville Florida.
- creative director on over 50 Hewlett-Packard marketing videos.
- created a portfolio of creative concepts for a Microsoft holiday campaign.
- partnered with the VP of Dolby's R&D to produce marketing content for the consumer launch of Dolby Atmos.
- scripted and co-directed a product launch video for Hewlett-Packard with a one-week turnaround.
- Maximized an 80K budget to produce 8 videos for the price of 4 for HP.

Editor & Art Director, Agency Collective

San Francisco, CA, 2007-2008

Agency Collective is an innovative multimedia agency and design collective. As the principal video editor and a senior designer, I was an integral member of the team helping the principals develop and realize their creative vision.

Clients included: IDEO, Kumon, Livescribe, NHK World, Nike, Qualcomm, Samsung, THX and Ubisoft.

Key Highlights:

- Mentored and managed 3 designers. Directed production and post personnel.
- Collaborated with visual and interior designers to develop and install multi-screen video content for renowned chef Masaharu Morimoto's restaurant.
- Developed creative concepts for an IDEO video pitching new mobile phone form factor concepts to Samsung
- Edited and assisted with the direction of several broadcast commercial spots.
- Designed still and motion graphics. Created shot lists, and storyboards.

Editor & Graphic Designer

San Francisco, CA, 2000-2006

As a freelance general specialist in media production, I edited and created graphics for a variety of corporate, non-profit, and documentary clients.

Clients included: Autodesk, Canon, Intel, Japan Airlines, Nikon, Nvidia, and Wired.

Key Highlights:

- Edited video content and created motion graphics.
- Researched, wrote scripts, and edited for Sun Microsystems's Emmy award winning technology documentary series, "Digital Journey."
- Shot and produced three feature length documentaries, "The Singularity", "American Dream 2.0" and "Congress Shall Make No Law." Assisted with the production and post for two multi-episode character education series, "Popcorn Park" and "In Search of Character."

EXPERTISE

creative direction
video production
video editing

graphic design motion graphics videography

scriptwriting copy editing interviewing

EDUCATION

B.F.A. Film and Video Production
York University, Toronto Canada